MirNs EXHIBITION

How can diversity be reflected through works of art? One way is through technology. Ten award-winning artists from around the world have created fascinating, technology-based works that consider responsive mirroring as a type of ephemeral portraiture. They use mirrors and mirroring, AI, robotics and coding and consider how machines see us. From mirrors that follow your every move and mirrors that turn away when you look at them, to thinking, interpreting mirrors. This exhibition is designed around covid-safety, with plenty of social distancing and barriers. The title refers to our amazing mirror neurons that are of interest in the biological sciences, robotics & coding.

MICRO RESIDENCY

In 2020 New Media Gallery put out a call for applications from artists who needed special assistance with technology to complete their projects. We were interested in encouraging those who did not have the resources to afford expensive technology. We call these 3-Day modules; Micro-Residencies. We were overwhelmed with the response! We're running this project throughout 2021. Artists are given access and assistance with tools such as VR, 3D scanning/modeling/printing, A/V equipment and LittleBits prototyping. Micro-Residencies support Black, Indigenous, People of Colour, Gender Diverse and Senior Artists. Ask for our short micro-documentaries on the project.

MUSEUM & ARCHIVES

NEW WESTMINSTER MUSEUM AT ANVIL CENTRE

The permanent gallery at Anvil Centre takes you on a journey of discovery, covering over 10,000 years of New Westminster history and ending in 2010.

Gallery 7 picks up where the permanent gallery leaves off. This is a place of engagement and interaction, bringing forth the contemporary stories of our city through discussion, dialogue, and exhibition in a smaller intimate setting. The temporary gallery lets us take a deeper look into many of our city's more interesting and thought-provoking stories, individuals, and objects.

THE HEAT IS ON: KEEPING WARM THEN, KEEPING COOL NOW

"Keeping warm was something you worked at in the old days," as local historian Evelyn Benson put it.

From chopping wood, avoiding the fleas in sawdust burners, and waiting for ice deliveries, to the new challenges climate change brings, New West's history past and present spotlights forgotten everyday necessities.

DONATIONS

Do you have city-related photographs, family heirlooms or other objects from New Westminster's history that you would like to donate to the museum and archives? The benefit of donating archival and artefacts is the museum and archives ability to properly store and care for these items while enriching New Westminster's history to residents, visitors and researchers.

Learn how to donate your items

COVID-19 HISTORICAL DOCUMENTATION

The New Westminster Museum and Archives is documenting Covid-19 pandemic in New Westminster and reaching out to community members to collect both physical objects and digital documentation, and thus document history as it happens.

The museum encourages citizens to keep diaries of this time and/or to contribute to a community diary, using the hashtag #nwcovidlife.

During this time of social isolation, keeping a journal also has benefits for mental health.

Visit our website for more information

ORAL HISTORY INTERVIEWS

In addition, the museum is looking to make audio and video recordings of people's experiences during Covid-19. People from a broad base of different backgrounds are invited to come together and share their experiences through a recorded video conference interview. The interviews could either be one-on-one with a museum staff member or as part of a community program.

ABOUT CULTURAL SERVICES

Cultural Services make up the civic division of Arts & Heritage departments, facilities, collections and program offerings, based out of Anvil Centre and operated by the City of New Westminster. Anvil Centre itself is a contemporary, award-winning, cultural + conference centre in downtown New Westminster: recognized as a vibrant, cultural hub and meeting place for the community and visitors to the city.

The people in Cultural Services manage, develop, organize and deliver exceptional programs and events for the city. We're here to make sure you can enjoy and learn from our galleries, museums, historic sites and public art collections. We work extensively with community groups to understand and support the diverse arts & heritage in the city. Here's some of what we have to offer: community workshops and talks, summer camps, artist talks, tours & openings for the Museum, New Media Gallery and Community Art Gallery, school + university programs, artist workshops, professional development seminars, performances, symposia & special events, city walks, building-wide community events, celebrations. the civic heritage & archival collections, the public art collection, Irving House + Samson V historic sites, Arts-Heritage & Technology advice and information services and programming room rentals.
